

Expected thermal sensation is not a sufficient statistic for discomfort-tail risk

A. Expected sensation is informative but not sufficient near the diagnostic boundary

B. Threshold decisions vary within mean bins

C. Matched-mean Phoenix example

